

KEEP DOWN EXEMPTIONS SAYS RULING

CROWDER ORDERS ALL LOCAL BOARDS NOT TO BE TOO LIB-ERAL IN PASSING ON CLAIMS.

MUST BE CLEAR CASES

Deny Release Except in Plainly Meritorious Instances, is Latest Announcement of Provost Marshal General.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Reports from many districts throughout the country that as many as 80 per cent of the draft claims for exemption are being granted, caused Provost Marshal General Crowder to issue a ruling today that exemption boards must be "a far more restricted class and to very necessary and clearly defined circumstances."

Existing conditions, he intimated, are a positive menace to the raising of the national army.

District Boards Confer.
Madison, Wis., Aug. 10.—The five district boards of the state are holding a meeting in the executive office today to perfect their rules regarding exemptions. The meeting is held at the request of Governor Phillips, who is in the city today.

Call Additional Men.
Neenah, Wis., Aug. 10.—The county exemption board today called seventy more registered men besides the first seventy in order to get the necessary fifty-five for the national army. One of the first lot, twenty-four claimed exemption because of dependents, eighteen were physically unfit, nine already in the service, and two failed to appear, leaving seventeen for the county who do not claim exemption.

Fifty Percent File Claims.
Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 10.—Of the 7,000 of 8,000 men of the county who were subject to the physical test, thirty-one per cent have filed exemptions. With one or two exceptions, all claims were based on the ground of physical disability.
One of the grounds of ineligibility and one a conscientious objector, a Holy Roller.

In Waupaca County.
Waupaca, Wis., Aug. 10.—The exemption board completed its initial work in examining drafted men today, 288 of the 300 called appearing and being examined. Of the 112 who were accepted for exemption, 18 had volunteered in the army, 3 were absent from the state, one was dead, and 82 filed claims for exemption, most of them claiming to be married or had dependent parents.

ALSACE AND LORRAINE STARVED BY GERMANS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
With the French armies, Aug. 10.— Alsace and Lorraine are being milked dry by the Germans while they still have the opportunity to do so, according to authoritative information that has just reached France by way of Switzerland.

It is the final sweep now being made by the Germans both of everything eatable and usable, that the condition of the civil population despite the fact that Alsace and Lorraine, still under German rule, is little if any better than that of the inhabitants of invaded Belgium.

All metals that could be used in the manufacture of war materials were long ago taken by the Germans including the church and school bells, iron pipes, door knobs, stoves and cooking utensils. Amongst the famous cathedrals of the Strasburg cathedral which were hung in 1865 to replace the historic bells destroyed during the revolution.

Food restrictions have been imposed.
Not only are the Germans requisitioning all live stock but the inhabitants of Alsace and Lorraine are under military orders, with military penalties attached, not to kill a single live animal.

Requisition is also made of smoked meats, dried fruits, potatoes, vegetables, and wheat flour.

Food restrictions have reached a point where the farmers are no longer allowed either to milk their own cows or to collect the eggs laid by their own hens. All this is done by German soldiers in order that every particle of food may be concentrated and may go to the German armies. As the farmers no longer have the right to their own milk, they are no longer to be found. Oil and coffee are also no longer obtainable.

These conditions coupled with the evacuation of the Germans of all properties owned entirely or in part by French capital and French people have reduced the position of the civil population to one of half starved and abject misery.

ENLIST, GO TO WORK OR GO TO JAIL IS WARNING TO IDLERS

State Council of Defense Informs Sheriff Whipple and Chief Champion to Clean Up the Lazy.

The State Council of Defense today informed Sheriff P. D. Whipple and Chief of Police P. D. Champion that all men must work. Both the county and the city law and order heads received identical letters telling them that their duty was to clean up the "idle class" and to see that the works just long enough to get the price of a drink must either enlist, work or GO TO JAIL.

Here is the communication received by Sheriff Whipple and Chief of Police Champion:

Madison, Wis., Aug. 9, 1917.
Your attention is directed by the State Council of Defense to the urgent necessity that every person who is profitably employed, and to the provisions of the Huber vagrancy law, section 697c, which empowers you to make men work or go to jail if they are being felt in agriculture and in the industries of Wisconsin. Ever since America entered the war laborers have been needed more now than ever. The labor officers of the various county councils and the State Council of Defense are daily receiving more demands for men than they can supply. These demands are steadily increasing. At the same time reports are coming in to the state council from various parts of the state concerning the idle class.

The Huber law provides that every male person over sixteen years of age who shall be convicted by any court or magistrate on the charge of being idle, or of being a vagrant, or of being drunk, or of being a disorderly person, shall be punished by imprisonment in the workhouse or in the county jail, at hard manual labor, for a term not less than thirty days, nor more than six months.

Vagrancy has repeatedly been defined as persistent idleness—loafing.
Your duty is clear.

Every policeman knows the habitually idle men on his beat. He recognizes the loafers who hang about the town. The police chief and the sheriff must see to it that every able-bodied man does one of three things: (1) enlist; (2) work; or (3) go to jail. If any man chooses the last course, it is the duty of the sheriff to make him work for the county.

The State Council of Defense directs every police and sheriff in the state of Wisconsin to enforce rigidly every provision of the Huber law.

DISTRICT BOARD IS ORGANIZED FOR WORK

Notifies Local Board That Is Ready to Meet Exemption Claims as Fast as Forwarded.

Howard W. Lee, secretary of the registration and exemption board of the first division for Rock county, received today a letter from C. T. Burgess, chief of district board No. 1 for the western district of Wisconsin, that the district board was organized and prepared to act on all exemption claims as fast as they are forwarded from the local boards. The district board is in session on Thursday and adjourned until Monday, when it will be ready to act on such cases as may have been sent to it.

Claims for exemption and supporting affidavits filed by candidates for the national army who were examined by the local board for the first time today at the office of the board with the prospects that all exemption cases would be filed by the end of the week. The local board will not be able to report them, however, until next week, because of the additional number ordered to report for examinations to secure the first quota.

When the cases will be posted each day together with the record of the board's decision or disposal of the case. A daily report will also be made to the district board, whose headquarters are at the county clerk's office in Rock county man is received in the morning at the county clerk's office.
The man is employed in this county.
His home is in this county.

He gave as his reason for failing to register that he had been rejected as physically unfit by a state militia company. The card was determined by the rules and regulations sent out by the provost marshal general.

Notices were mailed out late today to the group of registrants before the local board on Wednesday next.
The notices to the first group of nineteen men were sent on Thursday.
A new board of examining physicians has been designated by the board composed of Dr. J. P. Fember, chairman, Dr. C. M. Smith, Evanston, Dr.
Shearer, Edgerton, Dr. S. B. Buck-master and Fred Welch, Janesville.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The redrafted war revenue bill imposing taxes to the amount of more than $2,000,000 was taken up for consideration in the house today with exclusive right way until disposed of. Debate on the measure is expected to last about two weeks.

Senator Simmons opened the discussion on the measure today.

NEW WARTAX IS DEFENDED BY SIMMONS

CHAIRMAN OF SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE EXPLAINS PRO-VISIONS OF WAR REVENUE
BILL.

SEEK EQUITABLE PLAN

Effort is Made to Distribute War Burden Where It Can Be Borne With Least Hardship,
He Contends.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, Aug. 10.—In opening the senate debate on the $2,000,000,000 war tax bill today, Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, declared the committee's purpose in revising the house bill was to raise sufficient federal revenue for extra war expenses without injustice to rich or poor, individual or corporation, and without injuring sources from which the new and future taxes must come.

The bill, said Senator Simmons, proposes to raise a large proportion of war revenues by direct taxation and less by bonds, distributing the war burden between the present and future generations. He pointed out that nearly $1,400,000,000 of the new war taxes are to be obtained from income and war profits alone, with over $200,000,000 more from indirect taxes.
"Before the war," continued Senator Simmons, "our total expenditures were between $700,000,000 and $800-000,000, exclusive of postal and interest charges. During the war, these expenditures will reach something like $1,000,000,000. These conditions suggest incomes and war profits as the chief and just source of revenue to defray the expenses of the war. Apparently the house did not take this view, as the war profit for 1916 exceeded $3,000,000,000. The house levied of $200,000,000 from war profits and $200,000,000 from war excess profits.
$400,000,000 does not meet the manifest equities of the situation. Your committee thought that the equities of the situation required that the war burden should be shared by the incomes and war profits."

Hits Great Corporations.
Senator Simmons submitted statistics said to have been compiled by J. P. Morgan & Company showing that forty-five great corporations alone will pay under the proposed committee revision war profit taxes of $229-877,000, against only $77,000,000 proposed under the house bill.

Senator Simmons declared the committee proposes specific war profit and not excess profit tax. The house standard is wholly unsatisfactory, he declared, and is arbitrary.

Reasons for increasing corporation income taxes, Senator Simmons gave as follows:

"Necessity of increased revenues on account of large deficiency estimates for the army presented by the secretary of the treasury, after the bill was recommended at my request on account of the war control bill.

Seek Equitable Adjustments.
"As a partial adjustment of an alleged and apparent discrimination against partnerships, which are discriminated against by the action of the committee in subjecting individuals to the war profit tax.

"The proposed tax on corporations," undivided, would more nearly balance the relative condition as between corporations, partnerships and individuals, with respect to income surpluses."

The reduced tobacco taxes, he said, would raise the same revenue and house rates are burdening either producers or consumers.

SAM TO SHY PEPPERMINTS NEXT TIME HE COMES TO CITY

Sam Turner, twenty-one, came to Janesville from the farm yesterday and bought a sack of peppermints.
He was taken down the streets with the sack of the "Dry Janesville" committee last April unsuccessfully sought to have banished from the municipal council. This morning he was arrested and charged with being drunk, claimed that the peppermints made him sick and he was fined seven dollars and costs or twelve days.

Tom Collins, who appeared in court but a few days ago, was hit with a $25 fine and costs for four days being his "bit." Harry Looney, a horse trainer, was fined fifteen dollars and costs or twenty days.

British Labor Party Will Send Delegates To Stockholm Meet

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
London, Aug. 10.—The conference of the British labor party voted to send delegates to the Stockholm consultative by 1,460,000 to 55,000. The conference was in an uproar, which ended only when the result of the vote was announced.

British Labor on Peace.
A special sub-committee of the British labor party executive committee has been preparing a memorandum upon the issues raised in the war and the ideas of British labor in regard to proposals. Briefly the memorandum is an enforcement of the demand for the restoration and restoration in behalf of Belgium and other invaded countries. A declaration in favor of the right of individual people to settle their own destiny, liberation of oppressed peoples from Turkish mis-government and a demand for the establishment of a league of nations for the maintenance of peace and the elimination of war from the world.

The memorandum indicates Germany is threatening the very existence of independent nationalities, striking a blow at all faith in treaties, and declares the victory of Germany would be the defeat and destruction of democracy and liberty.

It is further declared that the essential condition of the restoration of peace is the establishment of "a league of nations adhered to by all present belligerents."

EXERT HYPNOTIC SPELL

Believed That The Men Exerted Abnormal Influence Over Woman to Accomplish Their Ends.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Delavan, Aug. 10.—Two professional looking men, representing themselves as Drs. Bennett and Baker of St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, yesterday afternoon secured $1,000 from Mrs. James Latimer, a wealthy widow residing in this city, as advance payment for "saving her eyesight." The money was so far been unable to trace them.

According to Mrs. Latimer, who is over seventy, the men were of a distinguished appearance, and said that they were specialists of successful physicians. One characterized himself as a nerve specialist and the other as a specialist on the eye. They presented themselves at her home on Delavan street and after some preliminary introductions offered to save her eyesight, which she had previously believed to be good enough not to require surgery. In her hotel on Lake street, they exerted a hypnotic influence over her, and in this way convinced her of their ability and integrity, incidentally receiving a check from her for $1,000, which they promptly took to the Wisconsin State bank to cash. The bank telephoned Mrs. Latimer before turning over the funds, but upon her statement that it was all right, gave the money to the men.

This occurred yesterday afternoon.
A few hours later when nothing more of the men had been seen, relatives of Mrs. Latimer telephoned to the bank where the check was cashed, and there were no such men as Dr. Bennett and Dr. Baker on the staff of that institution. This appeared to confirm suspicions, and the bank promptly sought to recover the money. The search was started at once, but this morning no clues as to their whereabouts had been obtained.

The two men stayed Wednesday night at Lake street hotel on Lake street, but as far as can be learned, attempted nothing out of the ordinary while there. They had an automobile, but a description of the car could not be obtained.

It is the belief that the men came to Delavan and upon learning that Mrs. Latimer was a widow and had considerable money, determined to practise their art on her. She was firmly convinced that the men were hyponotists, and that she would not have listened to them had she been in a normal mental state. She was "hypnotized and gave them the money in thousands dollars as an advance payment.

CARES FOR DEPENDENTS

Measures Provide Compulsory Allotment to Pay to Dependents Supplemented By Family Allowances Where Necessary.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, Aug. 10.—Authority to make effectively the government's program of insuring the armed forces of the nation was sought of congress today in bills introduced in both houses by Senator Simmons and Representative Alexander. The proposed legislation was framed to follow plans already announced in the general outline and would provide insurance at a minimum cost for American soldiers, sailors and marines. The insured men paying the premiums; the family allowances to dependents of men in the nation's military or naval service; indemnification for disabilities and for readjustment and rehabilitation at government expense of injured men.

Care for Dependents.
A feature would make it compulsory for officers and men to allot a minimum of $15 a month of their pay to dependent wives and children. The maximum compulsory allotment is supplemented by family allowances to be made by the government of from five to fifty dollars a month, according to the circumstances and number of dependents.

To encourage thrift, authority is sought to permit the war and navy department to compel men who do not allow one-half their pay to be possession of their half pay as is allotted with the government at 4 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.

Liberal indemnities for partial and total disability are included in the program, varying from forty to seventy-five dollars a month minimum up to $200 a month for higher officers.
Insurance would be paid in increased rate of approximately $8 per thousand in sums of $1,000 to $10,000, the premiums payable in installments.

The cost to the government as estimated by Secretary McAdoo would approximate the following:

	1st Year.	2nd Year.
Family allowances	$141,000,000	$190,000,000
Death indemnities	3,700,000	22,000,000
Compensation for partial disabilities	6,250,000	35,000,000
Compensation for total disability	3,200,000	21,000,000
Against death and disability	23,000,000	112,500,000

Total $176,150,000 $380,500,000
The total for two years is thus placed at $556,650,000, which Mr. Mc-Adoo estimates at less than 6 per cent of the cost to the country of conducting the war.

In its general feature, the bill was approved by the advisory committee of insurance representatives at Washington July 2.

"They opposed, however," Mr. Mc-Adoo advised the president in a letter made public with the introduction of the bill, "the grant of any government insurance over and above the compensation on the ground that the other provisions were liberal enough and might be made more liberal." They favored over and above compensation, the payment by the government of $1,000 in each case of death during service, or within five years of discharge of service in lieu of insurance."

Children up to 18 years of age "or if incapable of pursuing a substantial gainful occupation because of mental or physical infirmities, are without the age limits."

for Each Day.

Variety as well as size and quality will be one of the outstanding features of the Janesville fair, which opens its gates next Tuesday for the biggest fair week in the history of the county. With the cancellation of both the Beloit and Evansville fairs, the directors realized that the burden of the responsibility for giving the people a real fair, fell upon their shoulders.
Consequently the fair will include many features never seen before and not a few that will not be seen in any other county fair.

"A different fair every day" is the slogan on which the program has been built up. Going one day will not compense seeing the fair, each day will be filled with new stunts, new opportunities to learn and enjoy.

The racing card is one that already has attracted the attention of sports lovers all over the southern part of the state. Races will be run on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for purposes totalling sixty-five hundred dollars some of the fastest horses in the country will be here, and with an entry list larger than anything in the history of the fair, this part of the program is bound to be a big feature of the fair.

The fair will be a clean, wholesome one. Every show and concession on the grounds has passed muster before a board of censors and no show or concession will be allowed on the grounds.
It is a children's fair as well as for the grown-ups. The directors have reorganized the benefit and charity department and have in the fair, and have thrown open the gates to all under twelve, free of charge. On Tuesday, the first day, which has been set as children's day, all under fourteen years of age will be admitted free. Games, stunts, contests, shows and everything to delight of the heart of a small citizen will be provided on that day.

To encourage thrift, authority is
sought to permit the war and navy
allotted with the government at 4 per cent interest, compounded semi-
annually.

Liberal indemnities for partial and
program, varying from forty to seventy-five dollars a month minimum up
to $200 a month for higher officers.
Insurance would be paid in increased
rate of approximately $8 per thousand in sums of $1,000 to $10,000, the
premiums payable in installments.

The cost to the government as es-
approximate the following:

	1st Year.	2nd Year.
Family allowances	$141,000,000	$190,000,000
Death indemnities	3,700,000	22,000,000
Compensation for partial disabilities	6,250,000	35,000,000
Compensation for total disability	3,200,000	21,000,000
Against death and disability	23,000,000	112,500,000

Total $176,150,000 $380,500,000
The total for two years is thus
placed at $556,650,000, which Mr. Mc-Adoo estimates at less than 6 per cent
of the cost to the country of conducting the war.

approved by the advisory committee
of insurance representatives at Washington July 2.

PHOTOGRAPHS VICTIMS DYING IN MID-AIR

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Paris, Aug. 10.—Probably the most marvelous collection of war aviation photographs in the world are in possession of Captain Guynemer, the French flying champion, who has taken a photograph every time he shoots at a Boche airplane.
Attached to the French flyer's machine is a camera—a repeating camera. A pull on the trigger of the gun operates the picture machine.
The novel idea for procuring war pictures is believed to be Guynemer's own. But it has proved such a great success that every fighting machine in the Lafayette Escadrille will be likewise equipped. The photos will undoubtedly some day make their appearance in America.

JANESVILLE WOMEN HOSTESSES TO CLUB

Interesting Discussions on Household Economics Feature Meeting on Thursday.—Canning Demonstration.
A splendid program was given before about one hundred ladies on yesterday at the August meeting of the Summer Club of Home Economics, at the high school building. A most thoughtful and complete paper was given by Mrs. Boardman of Evansville on the subject of eugenics. She defined the word as meaning high born or of noble birth, and as signifying the social conscience of the present generation toward those yet unborn. She said there was huge ethical significance in the subject and a good deal of unselfish philanthropy. The idea of race betterment had been neglected and there was vital need of legislation and education on the subject. She showed by statistics that defectives were increasing very rapidly, and that now there were over a million and a quarter of the population of the nation who were a helpless load to carry. It was estimated that four generations would eliminate the unit. She closed with a plea for education to improve the race.
Mrs. Sylvia Colony of Evansville, who is president of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, gave an informal talk along the line of "Teaching Girls to Use Imagination in Housework." She suggested that the fact of using the garnered heat of centuries be considered, in the fuel used in making the morning cup of coffee. The clay and sand going into china, the metal used in silverware, and the blue flax from which the linen is made. The pepper suggests the island of Ceylon, and the spices, the orient. The crystals, of salt, and the sugar all have their story to tell to the imagination. Also in making the beds, there are tales of the Indian pappoose, the sailor swinging in his hammock, the cowboy on the plains, and "uncle" who lies the head that wears the crown. She also urged the fact that conservation is patriotism, and also that there was special need for club work in the unsettled conditions that confronted the nation.
The addresses were preceded by a delightful group of songs, given by Stanley Horwood, who was accompanied by Mrs. Richards at the piano. The songs were "The Floral Dance," "Love's Appeal," "Dreamy Days," and "Up From Somerset."
Previous to the program, a canning demonstration was given in the science room by Miss Doris Amerpol, who showed the method of canning peaches and carrots by the cold pack process. She also gave many hints on the canning of other products, and also the conserving of food stuffs by drying. The demonstration was especially helpful as many problems were brought up and discussed, and questions answered. A business meeting of the club was also held, at which in the absence of the president,

DOLLS FITTED OUT IN LATEST STYLES

Sixty Little Girls Learn Art of Dress-making for Benefit of Favorite Dollies.
Sixty dolls of varying degrees of beauty appeared at the high school yesterday. Many of them rode in state in their doll buggies, and all of them were accompanied by their careful mothers, who were anxious to have the latest advice in regard to a suitable wardrobe for their darlings. Little dolls and big ones were fitted out with handsome garments by the assistance of the expert modistes in charge. Those on yesterday were: Miss Helen Taylor, Miss Katherine Carl, Miss Evelyn Kallvege, Miss Louise Nowlan and Miss Hilda Woolf. Mrs. Devins, who is in charge of the class, was out of the city yesterday.

The ages of the little girls forming the class, range from six to twelve years, and their earnestness and enthusiasm is a pretty thing to see. They are learning plain sewing and hemming, with other useful hints in regard to the work. Many materials are urgently needed in the manufacture of coats, hats, bonnets and dresses for the dollies. Bits of silk and lace can be utilized to advantage in smartening up a plain gown, and odd pieces of muslin, lawn, gingham and in fact all goods can be used to advantage. If anyone has paper patterns also, they will be thankfully received by the volunteer workers in charge, as they will make their work much easier. A few more young ladies to assist in teaching the children, could also be used to advantage. More individual instruction could be given. Some of the parents have expressed themselves heartily in favor of continuing the class after the school year begins.
If you want anything and want it when you want it, try a want ad.

PATRIOTIC OPINIONS VARY: THEY ARGUE IT OUT, THEN LET THE JUDGE SETTLE IT

William Slawson, North Pearl street, and Frank Parker, North Academy street, store keeper, got into an argument the morning Company M left for camp. That passed off, apparently, until Wednesday morning, when Parker, in a corner, claimed he was caught in a curtain fire of blue air issuing from Slawson as the latter moved by the Parker front. "Yellow cur," and "I'll get yuh," appeared in the warrent, the storekeeper had sworn out for Slawson, but in court the defendant refused to admit that he had used any abusive or threatening language on this particular occasion, Wednesday. The upshot of the battle was that each drew a reprimand from the court and were ordered to shake hands. They left the court room apparently satisfied that the affair was over and would leave no more. Judge Maxfield pinned a little American flag on Slawson's coat lapel and told him to wear it until the date of adjournment to show his patriotism. It was all a difference of opinion as to the public show given the soldiers when they left that started the trouble in the first place.

JANESVILLE CLUB IS ELIMINATED BY DEFEAT OF WILCOX

Headfield of the Blumound Trims Louis Allis and Will Meek Dickenson in the Semi-finals.

With the defeat of E. P. Wilcox by Angie Jones of the Blumound club, Janesville's small delegation to the state championship has been eliminated. But four men went into the meet this year, whereas the local club usually sends ten or twelve players.
Jones defeated Wilcox, 2 to 1.
A nine-hole hole match eliminated the third round of the tournament, when Therry S. Hatfield, the Blumound they played in an even 40. Hat-

CHICAGO SEMI-PRO TO BEAT GOSLINGS IN WATERTOWN GAME

Nick Kearns of the Windy City Mutuals to Perform for Cardinals in Crucial Game.

Nick Kearns, a crack pitcher from the Mutuals, the fast Chicago semi-pros, formerly a hurler in the northern and international leagues, will be on the mound for the Cardinals Sunday when they clash at Watertown with the cheery Goslings. Kearns has been in Chicago for about a month and in this time has pitched the Mutuals to three victories.

The Cardinals' co-op. managers, Lagdon and Kuhn, sprung this surprise today. Cradon will be on the mound for the Cardinals, although it is the belief that he will have small chance of getting in once Kearns gets started.

Meyers will be the only new man in a Cardinal suit, aside from Kearns, who did not play last Sunday. There will be Lou Flene at first, Al Cook at second, and Jack Kernan at third.

Following the bird from Fond du Lac, will be seen at short. He showed up in great order last Sunday, and had his pathos on everything which came into his territory. At the plate he worked a person for a pair of glasses and delivered a sacrifice. Delaney will be the backstop. Meyers, Joe Ryan and Captain "Duckie" Eberts will take care of the gardens.

Ryan, developing a hitting stride now, and his mates are looking for a couple of Texas leaguers Sunday. Joe got a pair of doubles against Rockford, but one of the hits would have been a triple save for the fact he robbed himself of it by a poor slide.

"Blondy" has several acres of the "filthy weed" under his own cultivation and as he has not been seen in the village since Sunday, it is surmised he's practicing hook-slides in the plowed terra firma somewhere near Bass Creek.

FRENCH TO ISSUE

BREAD CARDS SOON

(By Associated Press.)
Paris, Aug. 10.—The impending bread crisis, which will be introduced in Paris probably in October, will be necessitated in part by the unprecedented bad weather prevailing during the last few weeks.

According to an official announcement, the "deficit in the crops does not permit France any more than any other country to hold its own in the market for wheat. The year 1917-1918 is to be passed without a crisis.

SHERMAN KELLY STOCK CO.
HAS BIG VAUDEVILLE ACTS

The Sherman Kelly Stock company, which will open a week's engagement at the Myers theatre Sunday matinee, August 12th, will offer some of the best vaudeville acts ever seen here with a stock company. There are five acts, which will change at each performance.

The acts will include Raymond and Temple, McHugh and Lamb, Miss Una Carpenier, Miss Ethel Paul, and Mock-Sodi-Allie, the greatest of all mystery acts. This alone is well worth the price of admission.

On the opening Sunday Matinee Mr.
Kelly and his company will be seen to good advantage in the latest comedy success "A Thief in the Night." Monday will be ladies night when lady will be admitted free with each paid thirty or fifty cent ticket. The box office is now open and seats are selling for the entire engagement.

Weakness in the box has been the ailment of the Detroit Tigers for several years and undoubtedly has cost the club more than one pennant.
Now it looks as if the same weakness may deprive the Chicago White Box of the flag.

CAPTURING OF JAMES GANG SUCCEEDS IN LA CROSSE

La Crosse, Aug. 10.—Thomas L. Vaughn, who with a resident of Madison, Minn., was leader of the posse which captured Bob, Frank and Cole Younger, members of the Jesse James gang of bandits, after the famous Northfork, Minn., bank robbery in 1876, died here today at the age of 84 years.

Bad Stomachs
Business Failures

In this day of high efficiency and high speed, the business man who is not able to eat and digest his food is a failure. It is the business man who is not able to eat and digest his food who is the business failure. It is the business man who is not able to eat and digest his food who is the business failure. It is the business man who is not able to eat and digest his food who is the business failure.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious to the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulled coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply rub the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

FOUR WOMEN
TESTIFY

Positive Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Their Health.

Yonkers, N. Y.—"I suffered from a bad case of female troubles, backache, nervousness and indigestion. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed."—Mrs. H. J. L. FEATHERS, 61 Hamilton Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.

Danville, Ill.—"I would not be alive today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it cured me from a severe case of female trouble."—Mrs. O. A. COE, Batetown Road, Danville, Ill.

Ridgway, Pa.—"I wish all women who suffer from female troubles would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I avoided a surgical operation by its use."—Mrs. O. M. RAINESS, Ridgway, Pa.

North Haven, Conn.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed when passing through change of life. There is nothing like it to overcome the trying symptoms."—Mrs. FLORENCE ISELLA, Box 197, North Haven, Conn.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

The Real
ManBy
FRANCIS LYND

Illustrations by IRWIN MYERS

Copyright by Chas. Scribner's Sons

There are times when any more man may be shocked into telling the truth, and Smith had come face to face with one of them. "It is," he said.

"She is in Brewster?"

"Yes. She came this evening."

"And you ran away? That was horrible, unkind, don't you think—after she had come so far?"

"Hold on," he broke in. "Don't let's go so fast. I didn't ask her to come. And, besides, she didn't come to see me."

"Did she tell you that?"

"I have taken precious good care that she shouldn't have the chance. I saw her name—and her father's—on the hotel register; and just about that time I remembered that I could probably get a bite to eat out here."

"And You Ran Away?"

"You are queer. All men are a little queer. I think—always excepting colored-daddy. Don't you want to see her?"

"Indeed, I don't."

"Not even for old times' sake?"

"No; not even for old times' sake. I've given you the wrong impression completely, if you think there is any obligation on my part. It might have drifted on to the other things in the course of time, simply because neither of us might have known any better than to let it drift. But that's all a back number, now."

"Just the same, her coming shocked you."

"It certainly did," he confessed soberly; and then: "Have you forgotten what I told you about the circumstances under which I left home?"

"Oh," she murmured, and as once before there was a little gasp to go with the word. Then: "She wouldn't—she wouldn't—"

"No," he answered; "she wouldn't; but her father would."

"So her father wanted her to marry the other man, did he?"

Smith's laugh was an easing of strains. "You've pumped me dry," he returned, the sardonic humor reasserting itself.

A motorcar was coming up the driveway. It was high time that an interruption of some sort was breaking in, and when the motorcar appeared and brought Smith's with him to the lounge end of the porch, a business conference began which gave Miss Corona an excuse to disappear, and which accounted easily for the remainder of the evening.

Smith returned to Brewster the next morning by way of the dam, making the long detour count for as much as possible in the matter of sheer time-killing. It was a little before noon when he reached town by the round-about route, and went to the hotel to reconnoiter. The room clerk who gave him his key gave him also the information he craved.

"Mr. Richlander? Oh, yes; he left early this morning by the stage. He is interested in some gold properties up in the range beyond Topaz. Fine old gentleman. Do you know him, Mr. Smith?"

"The name seemed familiar when I saw it on the register last evening," was Smith's evasion; "but it is not such a very uncommon name. He didn't say when he was coming back?"

"I told the waiter to bring me over

Smith took a fresh hold upon life and liberty. While the world is perilously narrow in some respects, it is comfortably broad in others, and a danger once safely averted is a danger lessened. Snatching a hasty luncheon in the grillroom, the fighting manager of Timanyoni High Line hurried across to the private suite in the Kinzie building offices into which he had lately moved and once more plunged into the business battle.

Notwithstanding a new trouble which Stillings had wished to talk over with his president and the financial manager the night before—the claim set up by the dead-and-gone railroad to a right of way across the Timanyoni at the dam—the battle was progressing favorably. Williams was accomplishing the incredible in the matter of speed, and the dam was now nearly ready to withstand the high-water stresses when they should come. The powerhouse was rising rapidly, and the machinery was on the way from the East. Altogether things were looking more hopeful than they had at any period since the hasty reorganization. Smith attacked the multifarious details of his many-sided job with returning energy. If he could make shift to hold on for a few days or weeks longer...

While Smith was dictating the final batch of letters to the second stenographer a young man with sleepy eyes and yellow creosote stains on his fingers came in to ask for a job. Smith put him off until the correspondence was finished and then gave him a hearing.

"What kind of work are you looking for?" was the brisk query.

"Shorthand work, if I can get it," said the man out of a job.

Smith was needing another stenographer and he looked the applicant over approvingly. The appraisal was not entirely satisfactory. There was a certain shifty furtiveness in the half-opened eyes, and the rather weak chin hinted at a possible lack of the directness which is the prime requisite in a confidential clerk.

"Any business experience?"

"Yes; I've done some railroad work."

"Here in Brewster?"

Shaw lied smoothly. "No; in Omaha."

"Any recommendations?"

The young man produced a handful of "To Whom It May Concern" letters. They were all on business letterheads, and were apparently genuine, though none of them were local. Smith ran them over hastily and he had no means of knowing that they had been carefully prepared by Crawford Stanton at no little cost in ingenuity and painstaking. How careful the preparation had been was revealed in the applicant's ready suggestion.

"You can write or wire to any of these gentlemen," he said; "only, if there is a job open, I'd be glad to go to work on trial."

The business training of the present makes for quick decisions. Smith snapped a rubber band around the letters and shot them into a pigeonhole of his desk.

"We'll give you a chance to show what you can do," he told the man out of work. "If you measure up to the requirements, the job will be permanent. You may come in tomorrow morning and report to Mr. Miller, the chief clerk."

Having other things to think of, Smith forgot the sleepy-eyed young fellow instantly. But it is safe to assume that he would not have dismissed the incident so readily if he had known that Shaw had been waiting in the anteroom during the better part of the dictating interval, and that on the departing applicant's cuffs were microscopic notes of a number of the more important letters.

CHAPTER XIII.

"Sweet Fortune's Minion."

It was late dinner-time when Smith closed the big roll-top desk in the new private suite in the Kinzie building offices and went across the street to the hotel. The great dining room of the Euphoric House was on the ground floor. The room was well filled, but the head waiter found Smith a small table in the shelter of one of the pillars and brought him an evening paper.

Smith gave his dinner order and began to glance through the paper. The subdued chatter and clamor of the big room dinned pleasantly in his ears. Half absent he realized that the head waiter was seating someone at the place opposite his own; then the faint odor of violets, instantly reminiscent, came to his nostrils. He knew instinctively, and before he could put the newspaper aside, what had happened. Hence the shock, when he found himself face to face with Verda Richlander, was not so completely paralyzing as it might have been. She was looking across at him with a lazy smile in the glorious brown eyes, and the surprise was quite evidently no surprise for her.

"I told the waiter to bring me over here," she explained; and then, quite pleasantly: "It is an exceedingly little world, isn't it, Montague?"

He nodded gloomily.

"Much too little for a man to hide in," he agreed; adding: "But I think I have known that, all along; known, at least, that it would be only a question of time."

After the waiter had taken Miss Richlander's order she began again.

"Why did you run away?" she asked.

Smith shrugged his shoulders helplessly.

"What else was there for me to do? Besides, I believed, at the time, that I had killed Dunham. I could have sworn he was dead when I left him."

She was trying idly with the salad-fork. "Sometimes I am almost sorry that he wasn't," she offered.

"Which is merely another way of saying that you were unfeeling enough to wish to see me hanged?" he suggested, with a sour smile.

"It wasn't altogether that; no."

There was a pause and then she went on: "I suppose you know what has been happening since you ran away—what has been done in Lawrenceville, I mean?"

Dinner Stories

The lady had heard a stranger say that if a man could see himself intoxicated he would never be intoxicated again, and having a husband addicted to alcoholism, and also plenty of money, she thought of an operator whom she engaged was not kept waiting long for an opportunity of filming the errand husband, and in the presence of relations the subject was privileged to behold himself on the screen, and gravely left the room, which the others thought a good sign. Finding he had also left the house, his brother set out to find him, running him to earth eventually in the club, busy—as an attendant stated—with his fifteenth whisky and soda.

"Look here," said the brother, "I didn't think I'd find you back at this game."

"Didn't you?" innocently asked the subject. "Well, the fact of the matter is I'm not satisfied with that film."

The conjugal dispute waxed loud and furious. Mrs. Blank said: "Yes, yes, it was so!" and Mr. Blank said: "Pooh! pooh! It was not so!"

In the end came tears. Then Mrs. Blank fell to reproaches.

"I was reading one of your old letters, James only today," she sobbed, "and you said in it that you would rather live in endless torment with me than in bliss by yourself."

"Well," grunted Blank, "I got my wish."

Old Gentleman (excitedly to policeman)—That motor car knocked me down.

Policeman (taking out his notebook)—Indeed! What's its number?

Old Gentleman—Sixty-six.

Second Policeman (who had seen the accident)—No, no. It's ninety-nine. You see, he was standing on his head when he saw the number.
